- Take a detailed health history

- Perform a postural assessment
- Discuss the client's goals for massage therapy
- Develop a treatment plan

Chapter 2: The Physical Examination

The physical examination is the next step in the therapeutic massage bodywork examination process. This is your chance to assess the client's muscles, joints, and skin. During the physical examination, you will:

- Palpate the muscles
- Test the range of motion of the joints
- Assess the skin for any abnormalities

Chapter 3: The Treatment Plan

The treatment plan is the roadmap for your client's massage therapy. This plan will outline the specific techniques that you will use, the frequency of the treatments, and the expected outcomes. During the treatment planning process, you will:

- Discuss the different massage techniques with the client
- Determine the frequency of the treatments
- Set realistic expectations for the outcomes of massage therapy

Chapter 4: The Massage Session

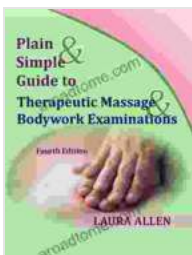

The massage session is the time when you actually perform the massage. During the massage session, you will use the techniques that you have outlined in the treatment plan. You will also monitor the client's response to the massage and make adjustments as necessary.

Chapter 5: The Final Report

The final report is the last step in the therapeutic massage bodywork examination process. This report will summarize the findings of the examination and the treatment plan. The final report will also include recommendations for future care.

This comprehensive guide has provided you with everything you need to know about therapeutic massage bodywork examinations. By following the steps outlined in this book, you can provide the best possible care for your clients.
